SOLUTIONS

S1. Ans. (e)

Sol. Both (i) and (ii) starters can be used to form a single sentence from the two sentences, implying the same meaning as expressed in the statement sentences. The sentences thus formed are:

(i) Seeking refuge with her distant relatives with her delivery date just a week away, she was gripped by fear and anxiety at the prospects of visiting the nearest hospital due to the ongoing chaos.

(ii) Gripped with fear and anxiety at the prospects of visiting the nearest hospital due to the ongoing chaos, she was seeking refuge with her distant relatives with her delivery date just a week away.

Hence, option (e) is the right answer choice.

S2. Ans. (b)

Sol. Both (i) and (iii) starters can be used to form a single sentence from the two sentences, implying the same meaning as expressed in the statement sentences. The sentences thus formed are:

(i) Despite the prevailing fear among all the survivors, a medical camp in Chand Bagh set up for a few hours immediately drew the attention of people.

(iii) Provided that the fear was prevailing among all the survivors, a medical camp in Chand Bagh set up for a few hours immediately drew the attention of people.

Hence, option (b) is the right answer choice.

S3. Ans. (e)

Sol. Here all the three starters (i), (ii), and (iii) can be used to form a single sentence from the two sentences, implying the same meaning as expressed in the statement sentences. The sentences thus formed are:

(i) Amidst the much concern about the COVID-19 is understandably about the number of cases and related deaths it is important to remember that the vast majority of the cases will be mild.

(ii) Although the much concern about the COVID-19 is understandably about the number of cases and related deaths it is important to remember that the vast majority of the cases will be mild.

(iii) Even if the much concern about the COVID-19 is understandably about the number of cases and related deaths it is important to remember that the vast majority of the cases will be mild.

Hence, option (e) is the right answer choice.

S4. Ans. (e)

Sol. Both (i) and (ii) starters can be used to form a single sentence from the two sentences, implying the same meaning as expressed in the statement sentences. The sentences thus formed are:

(i) Although occasional accidents in an industry dealing in explosive materials may seem inevitable, the probability of such mishaps can certainly be reduced by adopting safe work practices.
